Fifth Social and Economic Impact Study of Gambling in Tasmania

Glenorchy City Council Submission October 2020

About Glenorchy Local Government Area

The City of Glenorchy is a Local Government Area of Tasmania located in the Greater Hobart metropolitan area in Southern Tasmania. It is located approximately 7km north of Tasmania's capital city, Hobart and is bounded by the Derwent River in the north and east, with Wellington Park to the south-west. As Tasmania's fourth largest city, the City of Glenorchy's Estimated Resident Population for 2019 is 47,969 distributed over an area of 121km².

The table below is a snapshot of the City of Glenorchy's key population characteristics compared with the Greater Hobart region, Tasmania and Australia¹.

	Glenorchy LGA	Greater Hobart	Tasmania	Australia
Median Age	39	40	42	38
Median weekly household income	$1016	$1232	$1098	$1431
University attendance	3%	5%	4%	5%

Glenorchy City Council (Council) Community Plan and Priority Goals

The City of Glenorchy Community Plan 2016 – 2040 was developed through extensive consultation. Nearly 2000 people of all ages, cultural backgrounds and locations in Glenorchy provided over 7,500 ideas and thoughts about the future of our city. Our City's vision statement is: We are a proud city; a city of arts; of opportunities; of partnerships; a city that makes exciting things happen.

Council has set five goals for achieving our vision:

- Open for business
- Making lives better
- Valuing our environment
- Building image and pride
- Leading our community.

² As at 2019 September quarter, the unemployment rate in Glenorchy City was 10.4% (unemployment rate is derived from the ABS labour force survey and Centrelink data and compiled by the Department of Employment).

Glenorchy City Council Submission to the Fifth Social and Economic Impact Study of Gambling in Tasmania

Glenorchy City Council's Position on Gambling

The Local Government Act 1993 (section 20) provides that it is a function of councils to provide for the health, safety and welfare of the community, and to represent and promote the interests of the community. Council has a role in advocating on behalf of its residents to other levels of Government if it believes there is a significant issue that impacts the community.

Based on the research regarding the addictive nature of electronic gaming machines and the harm that they cause in the community, it is clear that Council has a role to play in advocating on behalf of the community in relation to gambling, specifically electronic gaming machines.

Council has previously made statements expressing concerns around gaming in Tasmania and its impact on the local community. Council is also a member of the Community Voice Against Pokies Coalition.

In 2016, Council made a submission to the Joint Select Committee on future gaming markets in Tasmania. The submission focussed on:

- The community aspirations of City of Glenorchy citizens, and how electronic gaming machines are contrary to the community's vision for our City;
- The context of poker machines in the City of Glenorchy in terms of the local economy and community preferences relating to social and economic activities; and
- Council's views on the effectiveness of harm minimisation measures from the City of Glenorchy perspective

The aim of providing the abovementioned submission was to demonstrate to the Joint Select Committee that one of the local government areas most impacted by electronic gaming machines strongly desired change; and urged the Committee to investigate and recommend concrete measures where electronic gaming machine licences for community venues were not renewed post-2023.

At the Council meeting of 28 September 2020, Council reaffirmed its position on gambling, and endorsed the following statement of commitment:

Recognising that gambling, and specifically electronic gaming machines, can cause significant harm to individuals, families and the broader community, and that the strongest risk factor for gambling harm is electronic gaming machine play, Glenorchy City Council will work closely with our residents, government, community organisations and businesses to implement the following commitment:

Glenorchy City Council will

1. Advocate for the removal of electronic gaming machines from hotels and clubs in the City through a managed reduction over time.
2. Partner with organisations and/or service providers to advocate for increased harm minimisation and consumer protection measures, including reducing hours of operation, reducing the maximum bet to $1 and greater targeting of social programs for the community.
3. Engage with community, community organisations, service providers, businesses, government and social researchers to gather and share information about the use and impact of electronic gaming machines.

Council believes that the commitment aligns with our community goals and the vision for the City as identified by the community.

Glenorchy City Council Submission to the Fifth Social and Economic Impact Study of Gambling in Tasmania

Electronic Gaming Machines in the City of Glenorchy – Economic Impacts

Key issues that submissions to the fifth Social and Economic Impact Study of Gambling in Tasmania have been asked to consider are economic impacts and any notable changes in gambling behavior. As noted in Council's Statement of Commitment on Gambling, Council has a particular concern regarding the economic and social impacts of electronic gaming machines.

With 240 electronic gaming machines across eight venues (approximately one machine for every 156 adults) the City of Glenorchy has the unenviable distinction of being known as the "pokies golden mile".

Unfortunately, the City also leads the way in expenditure on electronic gaming machines, with figures from the Department of Treasury and Finance showing that a considerable amount of money is lost each month.

In both 2017/18 and 2018/19 expenditure on electronic gaming machines in the City was just under $20M, with an average spend per machine of almost $71,000. This figure dropped in 2019/20 to $14,714,510.35, noting that venues were closed for nearly three months due to COVID 19. In the first two months of the current financial year the City of Glenorchy had the highest expenditure on electronic gaming machines across the state, with over $2M lost each month.⁴

The ABC quotes the Mayor of Glenorchy Kristie Johnston: "For the last three months we have seen $5 million in the Glenorchy community saved from going down the throats of pokie machines," she said. "Instead, that $5 million has been spent putting food on the tables of Glenorchy families, it's been spent on rent, it's been spent on local businesses supporting local families."⁵

In an article from 2018, Charles Livingstone, Senior Lecturer, School of Public Health and Preventative Medicine, Monash University noted that electronic gaming machines in Glenorchy make 1.6 times the state average, translating to $560 per adult per year, compared to a Tasmanian average of $272. He also said "Glenorchy and some other local government areas have previously been described as "low income", and are reported as having a problem gambling rate of 1.1 per cent, compared to the state average of 0.6 per cent. It's little wonder, then, that the rate of losses is also more than twice the state average."⁶

26.2% of households in the City of Glenorchy are low income households, earning less than $650 per week. 10.2% of households earn between $400-$499 per week. Since COVID 19, there has been a significant increase in JobSeeker and youth allowance recipients. The City of Glenorchy had 4,134 people receiving these benefits in August 2020 (13.4% of the population aged between 15-64), an increase of 1574 people since September 2019.⁷ Council is concerned that a large amount of money is being lost to electronic gaming machines in an area that can least afford it.

Much research has been done on the prevalence of electronic gaming machines in low socio-economic areas such as the City of Glenorchy, as well as the fact that electronic gaming machines are a significant risk factor for problem gamblers.

The Fourth Social and Economic Impact Study of Gambling in Tasmania released in 2017 notes that: "The observed relationships between demographics, mode of play, and consumption and gambling related harm are in line with expectations and previous findings regarding predictors of risk of gambling problems.

Regarding mode of play, the strongest risk factor for gambling harm is EGM play, which is also consistent with prior research (Dowling, Smith & Thomas, 2009).⁸

The Third Social and Economic Impact Study of Gambling in Tasmania in 2014 carried out a comparative study between four low socio-economic status (SES) local government areas (including Glenorchy) and four comparison LGAs. This study found that residents of the four low SES LGAs had a higher rate of participation in gambling than the Tasmanian adult population, including higher rates of participation in gambling on electronic gaming machines and keno. The report states:

“For all four SES LGAs it is evident that EGMs are the most likely cause of harm for those with a gambling problem seeking assistance. Further, these clients are far more likely to have an issue with EGMs in their local hotel/club than EGMs in a casino. These findings were consistent with findings from the 2013 Gambling Prevalence Survey, which found that people in low SES LGAs exhibit significantly higher rates of participation in gambling on EGMs. The findings also mirrored feedback from consultations within each LGA and in particular Glenorchy and Devonport.”⁹

Charles Livingstone also notes: “It’s no accident that pokies in Tasmania are located in areas of significant social and economic stress. People who get hooked on them are likely to be seeking relief from life’s stresses – whether that’s caused by poverty, social exclusion, or difficult personal circumstances.”¹⁰

Whilst concern is often raised regarding the economic impacts for businesses if electronic gaming machines are removed from hotels and clubs, independent research from Professor John Mangan shows that expenditure on electronic gaming machines does not bring new economic activity to Tasmania but simply replaces existing activity and actually takes away from other potential spending in the domestic economy. The Mangan report also suggests that any short-term job impacts on hotels and clubs as a result of the removal of electronic gaming machines would be absorbed into other service industries.¹¹

Other research shows that gambling expenditure of $1 million creates approximately 3.2 jobs. The same expenditure on sales of liquor and other beverages equates to 8.3 jobs. Spending $1 million on sales of food and meals generates 20 jobs.¹²

The Community Support Levy (CSL) was established in 1993 to counter the negative social consequences of extending electronic gaming machines into clubs and hotels. There was a recommendation that the CSL be set at 8% of electronic gaming machine revenue from hotels and 5% of revenue from clubs. This was eventually set at 4%.¹³ When looking at the allocation of funds from the CSL however, community organisations and services in the City of Glenorchy receive a comparatively low amount from the CSL compared to the funds raised for the CSL from electronic gaming machine gross profits in Glenorchy. As Council stated in its submission to the Joint Select Committee in 2016: “...the City’s socio-economically challenged residents are cross-subsidising undeniably good community services and one-off activities in other communities at the expense of their own high losses to poker machines.”¹⁴

¹³ Report of the Auditor General – Gambling revenue and managing harm from gambling 2017, p14

¹⁴ City of Glenorchy submission to the Joint Select Committee, 2016

Taking all the above into consideration, it would seem that the City of Glenorchy is worse off economically from having electronic gaming machines in clubs and hotels. The research shows:

- Electronic gaming machines as the highest risk factor for problem gambling
- A deliberate strategy of locating electronic gaming machines in low socio-economic areas
- A comparatively small allocation of CSL funds to the City of Glenorchy
- No new economic activity from electronic gaming machines – takes away from spending in other areas

Council once again advocates for the removal of electronic gaming machines from hotels and clubs in the City through a managed reduction over time and asks for this to be considered in the fifth Social and Economic Impact Study.

Social Impacts

The Tasmanian Audit Office Report to the Auditor-General – Gambling revenue and managing harm from gambling used information from the Australian Government Productivity Commission to determine that the social cost of problem gambling in Tasmania is estimated to be at least $100M – this includes the impact of problem gambling on families, employers and the community¹⁵. Given the noted high spend on electronic gaming machines, as well as the high number of machines, in the City of Glenorchy, it would be logical to assume that the social cost of gambling in the Glenorchy community is significant.

In addition to financial losses, problem gamblers are also more likely to have problems with alcohol and smoke daily than non-problem gamblers. Other impacts for problem gamblers include difficulties in maintaining jobs and relationships, and they are more likely to suffer mental and physical health issues than non-gamblers¹⁶. As well as costs to individuals and families, this also increases demands on social services.

Council is in regular contact with service providers who work with problem gamblers who report that there is a long history of issues caused from electronic gaming machine addiction. Recently, a local gambling support program has advised that there has been an increase recently in younger men taking up gambling and that anecdotally they can see a direct correlation with on-line games that set young people up to prepare for 'real' gambling. The service noted that men in their 30's to 50's are most commonly gambling and most don't seek support until they have lost everything.

In their policy position for the 2018 Tasmanian state election Anglicare Tasmania, who in collaboration with Relationship Australia are funding to provide the gamblers Help program, note that their workers are frustrated with trying to provide support to people in a gambling regulatory environment that fails to provide adequate protection to its consumers. Workers report seeing family relationships suffer and people unable to afford to eat or heat their homes because their family is harmed by gambling.¹⁷

A recent study from Australia's National Research Organisation for Women's Safety Limited (ANROWS) found that while gambling does not directly cause intimate partner violence it does exacerbate it. Many of the women interviewed for the study described having an already abusive male partner whose gambling then greatly increased his violent behavior. When it was the woman who had the gambling problem, men frequently used this as an excuse for verbal and physical violence. The study also found that some women seek out gambling venues as safe spaces which feeds a cycle that reinforces both their gambling and the violence they are experiencing.¹⁸

Again, Council's position is that the removal of electronic gaming machines in hotels and clubs would be conducive to improved social health within the community and urges this consideration in the fifth Social and Economic Impact Study.

Harm Minimisation

The fifth Social and Economic Impact Study of Gambling in Tasmania discussion paper also asks for information regarding support services for problem gambling, and whether existing policies and strategies in place to minimise harm from gambling are effective. Council believes that much more could be done in relation to harm minimisation and consumer protection.

Council's position is that the best form of harm minimisation is for the removal of electronic gaming machines from hotels and clubs in the City through a managed reduction over time.

Failing this, there are also other measures that could be implemented such as reducing the maximum bet limit, reducing operating hours, slowing spin speeds, reducing jackpot amounts and prohibited losses disguised as wins. As electronic gaming machines remain in clubs and hotels, Council also supports increased funding through the CSL to be used to support gambling harm prevention/reduction activities.

The Report of the Auditor General – Gambling revenue and managing harm from gambling in 2017 notes that in 2015-16 that the largest portion of government revenue from gambling was from taxation and fees associated with electronic gaming machines and TASkeno in hotels and clubs ($31.8M of which 93% related to electronic gaming machines). This resulted in $4.6M going to the CSL, of which $2.3M was specifically for the purpose of funding activities to reduce the harm from gambling – only 0.7% of the total gambling industry revenue.¹⁹

The Auditor General's report also recommended that: "DHHS reviews the Neighbourhood House (NH) model, as it relates to helping people affected by gambling:

- To allow it to better cater for gamblers' need for a 'third place' (an alternative to home or by place of employment) in the evening
- In relation to the proximity of support facilities to gambling venues."²⁰

Council supports the provision of additional gambling support/services to work with communities such as the City of Glenorchy whose exposure to electronic gaming machines is increased, along with increased training and information available to relevant services.

Council is also concerned that self-exclusion from electronic gaming machine venues is not working. ABC Investigations recently asked each state and territory gambling regulator how many times there had been fines or prosecutions for allowing self-excluded gamblers into venues since these laws were first introduced. There was not a single example provided of a hotel or club being punished for allowing self-excluded gamblers to play.²¹

²¹ ABC News 9 October 2020

If the Future of Gaming in Tasmania recommended changes are implemented, venue operators will take over several functions that the Gaming Operator currently performs. Council is interested in what training will be provided/required, how their new responsibilities will be monitored and what penalties will be in place for breaches. Council also advocates for a requirement for an accompanying implementation plan that sets out clear and funded harm minimisation and strengthened regulatory measures.

Conclusion

From a multitude of studies and the State Government's own Social and Economic Impact studies, the social and economic impacts of electronic gaming machines can be clearly evidenced. Whilst the Gaming Control Act 1993 requires an independent review of the social and economic impacts of gambling in Tasmania to be conducted every three years, it is unclear as to how the information in the reports translates into action to address the harm caused by gambling and in particular electronic gaming machines. From the fifth Social and Economic Impact study of Gambling in Tasmania, Council seeks a clear plan of how any recommendations will be implemented.

Council has long advocated for the removal of electronic gaming machines from hotels and clubs in the City of Glenorchy through a managed reduction over time and continues to promote this as the most effective way to reduce gambling harm in our community. If this does not occur, there are a range of other harm minimisation measures that could be undertaken. If the situation remains, Council believes that there will continue to be unnecessary social and economic damage in our community that will affect future generations.

Supplementary Submission September 2020

About Glenorchy Local Government Area

The City of Glenorchy is a Local Government Area of Tasmania located in the Greater Hobart metropolitan area in Southern Tasmania. It is located approximately 7km north of Tasmania's capital city, Hobart and is bounded by the Derwent River in the north and east, with Wellington Park to the south-west. As Tasmania's fourth largest city, the City of Glenorchy's Estimated Resident Population for 2019 is 47,969 distributed over an area of 121km².

The table below is a snapshot of the City of Glenorchy's key population characteristics compared with the Greater Hobart region, Tasmania and Australia¹.

	Glenorchy LGA	Greater Hobart	Tasmania	Australia
Median Age	39	40	42	38
Median weekly household income	$1016	$1232	$1098	$1431
University attendance	3%	5%	4%	5%
Bachelor or higher degree	10%	21%	16%	22%
Vocational education	23%	20%	21%	19%
Unemployment ²	7.8%	6.4%	7%	6.9%

Glenorchy City Council (Council) Community Plan and Priority Goals

The City of Glenorchy Community Plan 2016 – 2040 was developed through extensive consultation. Nearly 2000 people of all ages, cultural backgrounds and locations in Glenorchy provided over 7,500 ideas and thoughts about the future of our city. Our City's vision statement is: We are a proud city; a city of arts; of opportunities; of partnerships; a city that makes exciting things happen.

Council has set five goals for achieving our vision:

- Open for business
- Making lives better
- Valuing our environment
- Building image and pride
- Leading our community.

² As at 2019 September quarter, the unemployment rate in Glenorchy City was 10.4% (unemployment rate is derived from the ABS labour force survey and Centrelink data and compiled by the Department of Employment).

³ At suburb level, SEIFA index of disadvantage for some areas are significantly lower than the Glenorchy LGA. For example, Glenorchy, Chigwell and Goodwood-Dowsing Point suburbs have SEIFA indices of 886.7, 841 and 826.22, respectively. Only 4% of Australian suburbs have SEIFA indices lower than Chigwell and Goodwood, i.e. are more disadvantaged.

Glenorchy City Council's Position on Gambling

The Local Government Act 1993 (section 20) provides that it is a function of councils to provide for the health, safety and welfare of the community, and to represent and promote the interests of the community. Council has a role in advocating on behalf of its residents to other levels of Government if it believes there is a significant issue that impacts the community.

Based on the research regarding the addictive nature of electronic gaming machines and the harm that they cause in our community, it is clear that Council has a role to play in advocating on behalf of the community in relation to gambling, specifically electronic gaming machines.

Council has previously made statements expressing concerns around gaming in Tasmania and its impact on our community. Council is also a member of the Community Voice Against Pokies Coalition.

In 2016, Council made a submission to the Joint Select Committee on future gaming markets in Tasmania. The submission focussed on:

- The community aspirations of City of Glenorchy citizens, and how electronic gaming machines are contrary to the community's vision for our City;
- The context of poker machines in the City of Glenorchy in terms of the local economy and community preferences relating to social and economic activities; and
- Council's views on the effectiveness of harm minimisation measures from the City of Glenorchy perspective

The aim of providing the abovementioned submission was to demonstrate to the Joint Select Committee that one of the local government areas most impacted by electronic gaming machines strongly desired change; and urged the Committee to investigate and recommend concrete measures where electronic gaming machine licences for community venues were not renewed post-2023.

At the Council meeting of 28 September 2020, Council reaffirmed its position on gambling, and endorsed the following statement of commitment:

Recognising that gambling, and specifically electronic gaming machines, can cause significant harm to individuals, families and the broader community, and that the strongest risk factor for gambling harm is electronic gaming machine play, Glenorchy City Council will work closely with our residents, government, community organisations and businesses to implement the following commitment:

Glenorchy City Council will

1. Advocate for the removal of electronic gaming machines from hotels and clubs in the City through a managed reduction over time.
2. Partner with organisations and/or service providers to advocate for increased harm minimisation and consumer protection measures, including reducing hours of operation, reducing the maximum bet to $1 and greater targeting of social programs for the community.
3. Engage with community, community organisations, service providers, businesses, government and social researchers to gather and share information about the use and impact of electronic gaming machines.

Council believes that the commitment aligns with our community goals and the vision for the City as identified by the community.

Future of Gaming in Tasmania

Council welcomes the opportunity to add to its earlier submission on the Future of Gaming in Tasmania. Whilst some of the issues that Council is most concerned about are out of scope in this consultation, specifically the removal of electronic gaming machines from hotels and clubs, there are several issues that Council wish to provide comment on.

Community Support Levy

As per Council's submission to the Joint Select Committee in 2016, Council does not support the current distribution of the Community Support Levy (CSL).

Figures from the Department of Treasury and Finance show that that a considerable amount of money is lost, each month, in the Glenorchy municipality to electronic gaming machines. During July and August this year, the Glenorchy municipality had the highest expenditure on electronic gaming machines across the state, with over $2M lost each month.⁴ When looking at the allocation of funds from the CSL however, community organisations and services in the City of Glenorchy receive a comparatively low amount from the CSL compared to the funds raised for the CSL from electronic gaming machine gross profits in Glenorchy. As Council stated in its submission to the Joint Select Committee: "...the City's socio-economically challenged residents are cross-subsidising undeniably good community services and one-off activities in other communities at the expense of their own high losses to poker machines."⁵

Council supports increased funding through the CSL to be used to support gambling harm prevention/reduction activities. The Report of the Auditor General – Gambling revenue and managing harm from gambling in 2017 notes that in 2015-16 that the largest portion of government revenue from gambling was from taxation and fees associated with electronic gaming machines and TASkeno in hotels and clubs ($31.8M of which 93% related to electronic gaming machines). This resulted in $4.6M going to the CSL, of which $2.3M was specifically for the purpose of funding activities to reduce the harm from gambling – only 0.7% of the total gambling industry revenue.⁶

The Auditor General's report also recommended that: "DHHS reviews the Neighbourhood House (NH) model, as it relates to helping people affected by gambling:

- To allow it to better cater for gamblers' need for a 'third place' (an alternative to home or by place of employment) in the evening
- In relation to the proximity of support facilities to gambling venues."⁷

Council supports the provision of additional gambling support/services to work with communities such as the City of Glenorchy whose exposure to electronic gaming machines is increased, along with increased training and information available to relevant services.

Council advocates for a harm minimisation return to the Glenorchy community from the CSL that is at least approximately in proportion to the electronic machine "take" from our community.

The public consultation paper for the Future of Gaming in Tasmania advises there are no specific changes to the harm minimisation framework, as this is regarded as best practice.

⁷ Ibid, p4

While it is noted that gambling is a legal activity enjoyed by many, for some people and their families it can cause financial, social, health and legal issues. Council's position is that the best form of harm minimisation is for the removal of electronic gaming machines from hotels and clubs in the City through a managed reduction over time. There are also other measures that could be implemented such as reducing the maximum bet limit, reducing operating hours, slowing spin speeds, reducing jackpot amounts and prohibited losses disguised as wins.

As noted in the "Community Support Levy" section, Council believes that more resources should be allocated to harm minimisation and consumer protection.

Council would advocate that increased harm minimisation measures be introduced prior to the end of the current Deed in 2023.

Casinos

As the proposed high roller casinos will only be licensed to operate for non-Tasmanian residents and will not have electronic gaming machines, Council does not believe that this will have a direct adverse effect on our community and does not have any comment relating to this change.

Council supports the introduction of a Community Support Levy (CSL) on electronic gaming machines in casinos and suggests that the CSL rates for hotels, clubs and casinos should be the same rather than the recommended 5%, 4% and 3% respectively (Council supports a higher percentage than the current 4%).

Hotels and Clubs

As previously stated, Council's position is for the removal of electronic gaming machines from hotels and clubs in the City through a managed reduction over time. Failing the removal of electronic gaming machines at hotels and clubs at the expiry of the current Deed, Council strongly advocates for a reduction in the caps of 30 electronic gaming machines for a hotel and 40 for a club, particularly in low socio-economic areas such as the Glenorchy local government area.

The Fourth Social and Economic Impact Study of Gambling in Tasmania released in 2017 notes that:

"The observed relationships between demographics, mode of play, and consumption and gambling related harm are in line with expectations and previous findings regarding predictors of risk of gambling problems. Regarding mode of play, the strongest risk factor for gambling harm is EGM play, which is also consistent with prior research (Dowling, Smith & Thomas, 2009)."⁸

The Third Social and Economic Impact Study of Gambling in Tasmania in 2014 carried out a comparative study between four low socio-economic status (SES) local government areas (including Glenorchy) and four comparison LGAs. This study found that residents of the four low SES LGAs had a higher rate of participation in gambling than the Tasmanian adult population, including higher rates of participation in gambling on electronic gaming machines and keno.

The report states:

"For all four SES LGAs it is evident that EGMs are the most likely cause of harm for those with a gambling problem seeking assistance. Further, these clients are far more likely to have an issue with EGMs in their local hotel/club than EGMs in a casino. These findings were consistent with findings from the 2013 Gambling Prevalence Survey, which found that people in low SES LGAs exhibit significantly higher rates

⁸ Fourth Social and Economic Impact Study of Gambling in Tasmania, ACIL Allen Consulting, Deakin University, Central Queensland University and the Social Research

of participation in gambling on EGMs. The findings also mirrored feedback from consultations within each LGA and in particular Glenorchy and Devonport.”⁹

Glenorchy has 240 electronic gaming machines across eight venues, which is approximately one machine for every 156 adults. According to the Tasmanian Gaming Commission Annual Report, a total of $14,714,510.35 (on average just over $1.2M per month) was lost in Glenorchy City to electronic gaming machines in hotels and clubs in 2019/2020 (noting that there was no revenue in April or May as hotels and clubs were closed due to COVID 19). In 2018/2019, this was $19,149,484.86. As previously indicated, since venues re-opened expenditure on machines has increased substantially.

Council believes that this high spend in the municipality is causing harm to individuals and families and that the community would benefit from a reduction in (or removal of) electronic gaming machines. Council would like to see the Community Interest Test (CIT) be applied to all venues who currently have electronic gaming machines at the end of the current deed so that the community can have a say in whether they support electronic gaming machines in their local venues, rather than the licences being automatically transferred to venues.

With venue operators taking over several functions that the Gaming Operator currently performs, Council is also interested in what training will be provided/required, how their new responsibilities will be monitored and what penalties will be in place for breaches.

Finally, Council is concerned that the proposed 20-year licence period is too long, and if implemented will effectively block any opportunity for change in the number of electronic gaming machines in our hotels and clubs until 2043.

Social and Economic Impact Study (SEIS) to be conducted every five years instead of every three years

Council supports the current practice of the SEIS being conducted every three years and would not like to see this changed to five years.

Along with the SEIS being conducted every three years, Council advocates for a requirement for an accompanying implementation plan that sets out clear and funded harm minimisation and strengthened regulatory measures.

There would appear little justification for a longer harm measurement cycle in an industry where operators are totting up their revenues in real time.

The extension of the Community Interest Test objection period from 14 days to 28 days

Council agrees with the extended timeframe for the Community Interest Test. As previously stated, Council also encourages a CIT process for all hotels and clubs following the end of the current Deed.

Petition RE: Proposal to sell Public Land - Mill Lane – Existing Regina/Barry Street Car Park

This Petition (1310 Signatures as at 14th December) is submitted for inclusion in the Glenorchy Council Meeting on 21st December 2020 and for your attention on behalf of the citizens of the Glenorchy Municipality and the Greater Hobart Area in response to your potential disposal of Mill Lane/ Regina/ Barry St Car Parking.

Action Sought: For potential disposal of this public land/essential CBD car parking not to proceed.

This Council must restore balance and put the needs and importance of community back on its agendas. Aldermen should be transparently given all relevant facts and not just what appears to be one-sided facts secretly workshopped to achieve unanimous "Team "decisions. As can be seen with this questionable car park decision, it is evident that the Council's methodology is deficient and deprives the community of democratic representation by the Aldermen.

The residents and southern regional visitors to the City of Glenorchy, who have signed this petition have made a judgment about the actions of this Council regarding the disposal of their essential and heavily relied upon Car Park and you must take notice of their concerns.

Below is a summary of just some of the issues related to the disposal of the Regina/Barry St Car Park:-

Car Park heavily used by Health Centre patients, staff, taxis and community

1. The community strongly opposes the sale of the Car Park which is heavily used and essential parking for the Health Centre staff, patients, taxis and the community in this the most important and busiest CBD Precinct in Glenorchy. There is already insufficient parking. Council should purchase 2 and 8 Regina St and provide more parking for the community, GHC patients and Medical and Allied Health staff etc. It is evident that more car parking is needed not less.

Range of High Level 3 Health Care provided to take pressure off the RHH and Ambulance Service

2. The Glenorchy Integrated Health Care Centre is a Level 3 Service Hub opened in 2018 and was built to fulfill this objective of providing primary, dental, mental health, allied health and social care as well as elements of acute hospital care such as specialist care. It was designed to take pressure off the Ambulance Service and the RHH Emergency Department and Clinical Services. The State and Federal Governments should be commended for providing this amazing facility in the Northern Suburbs. Services at the Centre included physiotherapy, oral health, occupational therapy, renal dialysis, pathology, child health and parenting services, podiatry, youth health and social work. It also caters for a mix of visiting services, such as speech pathology, wound care and continence and community nurses. It is however, now at great risk of failing due to the sale of the car parking. Once this has occurred it will not be able to be fixed as there is no other available land in the vicinity of the Centre. The Centre provides care for Tasmanians in Hobart's Northern Suburbs, Brighton, Derwent Valley, Southern Midlands and Central Highlands.

The delivery of critical health care will be disabled by the actions of the Glenorchy City Council.

Most densely populated area of the State with highest number of chronic and complex cases

3. At a Public Works Hearing on 23 June 2014 it was stated that the Carla Cranny Review 2009 highlighted the severe need for more services to go into the northern corridor. It is the most densely populated area in the State. It stated "it has some of the worst health outcomes for one reason or another and low socioeconomic levels are one clear reason.....When the consultants started looking at the data coming out of the Royal, the highest number and most complex cases were coming from the northern suburbs. It made logical sense to build something which was a bit more than a standard Community Health Centre." It should also be noted that there will be an increase in people requiring these services with additional affordable housing being built in the municipality.

204 car spaces required but only 40 behind Health Centre and Council identified 84 public car park spaces to be used to approve the Planning Permit (=only 124 car spaces available in total)

4. When the Centre was built the number of car spaces required for the building size and 51 consulting rooms was calculated at 204 spaces. The land size could only accommodate 40 car spaces behind the Centre. Council approved the Planning Permit based on the availability of 84 Public parking spaces next to the Centre. The total number of car spaces including the Public car parking available and agreed to by the Council was therefore 124.

In addition, there was a loss of 48 Public car spaces from the CBD when the land was disposed of for the building of the Health Centre in 2014.

The Parking Requirements for the Centre were considered under the Glenorchy Planning Scheme 1992 and was justified under a Performance Variation set forth in Clause 10.8. of the Scheme as follows:

(d) alternative parking is available in proximity to the Site

(g) if it is satisfied that a relaxation would not conflict with the aim and objectives set out in Clause 10.1., which is:

(c) To cater for the expected demand generated by the proposed use/development pursuant to Clause 10.1.

Council proposes to sell those car spaces(Car Park) to a developer for 26 apartments, 4 storeys high (16.4 metres)

5. It is now proposed to sell the car park to a developer to build 26 apartments and ignore the needs, welfare and safety of the community as well as the delivery of critical Health Services.

The $21 million Health Centre will be prevented from delivering optimal Health Care due to the disposal of parking for patients and staff.

6. This is a perfect example of why the delivery of health care is failing in Tasmania no matter how much money is being spent to deliver services. The Centre was built for $21 Million and now the delivery of services will fail because the Council does not care about supporting the Centre and the community it is supposed to act in the best interests of.

Council is selling open spaces and community assets to developers at the expense of our health and welfare

7. How can a Local Government Authority prevent the delivery of health services compromising the objectives of the Department of Health which is another area of the same government? The Council states it is "Open for Business" and offers a concierge service to developers. The Council is selling open spaces and community assets to developers at the expense of the community's health and welfare.

800 patients weekly and 80 staff each day at the Health Centre

8. 800 patients attend the Health Centre weekly and there are 80 staff in attendance each day.

Chronically ill, elderly, disabled, mobility impaired and mothers with babies and small children - they all need suitable parking.

9. As a result of the Acute level of Health Services provided, many patients are chronically ill, elderly, disabled and mobility impaired as well as mothers attend the Parenting and Oral Health Section with babies and prams. Accessible parking in this CBD area is a major issue.

Staff and patients will be late for appointments due to no suitable or accessible nearby parking and this will affect their level of care.

- 10 Patients and staff will be seriously impacted by the disposal of the Car Park and the prevention of delivering efficient Health Services. There is a serious problem already concerning the availability of parking for the professional Medical and Allied Health staff at the Centre. There is no all-day parking for them to access and they are required to constantly move their cars. Patients arriving late for appointments will make it impossible to receive the care they deserve.

Community consultation discriminates against those without a computer

- 11 A two-week computer survey is not a satisfactory means of undertaking community consultation in this disadvantaged municipality. It appears to discriminate against the community members who do not have access to this technology.

Council state "the Land serves no strategic purpose and is 'no longer needed'.... the Car park is not considered to be a useable open space."

This makes no sense!

- 12 (Refer Council Meeting Agenda 25th February 2019 Page 21)

"The disposal of the Council Land would be consistent with Council's Open Space Strategy.....the Land serves no strategic purpose for Council and has been identified in Council's property strategy as 'no longer needed' and consequently recommended for disposal. As it is currently a car park it was not considered to be useable open space in the Open Space Strategy." Why did Council make these statements which are out of touch with reality?

Why was there no community consultation at the beginning of this process?

We are 19 months into this process and the only community consultation appears to be an unrepresentative sample based on a computer survey over a limited two(2)week period.

Why did the Aldermen vote to dispose of this site previously without considering the needs of the community?

Why is the delivery of critical health services to the community of no importance to this Council?

How can Council term this essential car park as no longer needed and not a usable open space?

In summary, this public land belongs to the citizens of Glenorchy and is essential for accessible car parking to attend the Health Centre and surrounding CBD businesses and should not be disposed of. The Community, who know about this proposal, are shocked and extremely upset. The comment constantly made is "I always park there; where will we park? there are no other car spaces and this car park is always fully used." The Community are asking the Aldermen and Council to please consider their welfare and needs.

Explanatory Notes

These notes are provided where a single or collective variance within the Statement of Comprehensive Income requires explanation. To enable $ variances to be contextualised, they are also expressed as a % variance (rounded to a whole number). In most instances, variances are "year-to-date" specific and are not an indicator of potential budget or actual outcomes in the future.

Notes:

1. The threshold for variance reporting only details those areas deemed to be significant.
2. Arrow indicators represent:

Revenue higher than budget	↑	Revenue lower than budget	↓
Expense higher than budget	↑	Expense lower than budget	↓
